Re: Artwork for Recreation Nova Scotia Awards Program 2024

Dear Rolf,

Thank you so much for the support provided to Recreation Nova Scotia's Awards Program by Friends United over the past few years. Your donation of prints of local Indigenous artworks that have been presented to Recreation Nova Scotia's annual award winners has been greatly appreciated by award recipients as well as the hundreds of attendees at each annual conference as a reflection and celebration of the spirit of reconciliation and the impact that the recreation sector has on building healthier communities and enhancing quality of life for all Nova Scotians.

In follow up to our conversation on August 26, we would very much appreciate if Friends United were to to once again provide a donation of paper prints that would be framed and presented to award winners at this year's Awards Ceremony and Banquet taking place in Antogonish on October 16. We are hoping for 15 prints in total.

In recognition of this donation, we plan to recognize Friends United and the artists who created the original artworks in the following ways:

- At the Awards Ceremony, the donation from Friends United will be recognized in the speaking notes introducing the awards ceremony, and the name of the artist will be included in the presentation of each award to the award recipient;
- Acknowledgement of the donation will be included on the Recreation Nova Scotia website at www.recreationns.ns.ca and RNS social media channels following the Awards Ceremony, accompanying a group photo of the award winners with the framed artworks.

As discussed, Recreation Nova Scotia will look after the framing of the artworks. We would be happy to include an artist acknowledgement on the back of each frame, along with recognition of the donation from Friends United.

Thank you in advance for your donation to support the 2024 Recreation Nova Scotia Awards Ceremony and Banquet.
